

Stranded employees and PE implications for global businesses, project suspension

As the pandemic lingers, businesses continue to cope with and solve the day-to-day challenges of unforeseeable COVID-19 travel restrictions and work interruptions. This includes situations such as:

- » Senior executives and managers performing their roles from jurisdictions other than the jurisdiction where they work;
- » Those who are unable to return due to border restrictions; and
- » Those who can only attend board meetings and discharge their duties remotely from their temporary relocations.

This webinar led by experts of WTS Global and our network firms in Asia will provide practical guidance and illustrate application through common scenarios that businesses often face in view of the pandemic. WTS Global experts will also share key insights to address the application of the following OECD guidelines on:

- » Permanent Establishment (PE) issues including the impact of work from home, conclusion of contract and interruption in construction activities
- » Changes of residence for an enterprise and individual
- » Income from employment

WTS Global and our network Tax firms in Asia are pleased to bring the latest webinar in our ongoing series of Tax events. This month's topic is highly relevant to C-suite executives and Finance and Tax professionals with interests or responsibilities in Asia and globally.
