

Go-global webinar recap | Investment in Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia

12 Mar. 2026

On 12 March 2026, WTS China and Wolters Kluwer co-hosted the first “Go-global” webinar of the year, focusing on investment opportunities in Vietnam, Malaysia, and Indonesia.

The two-hour session attracted a global audience of business professionals, investors, and corporate strategists interested in expanding into Southeast Asia.

The webinar featured on-the-ground insights from WTS’s local teams. The panelists included:

Julien Tran / Managing Partner (RBA, WTS Vietnam)

"Vietnam offers political stability, a young and cost-competitive workforce, and extensive free trade agreements, making it an ideal manufacturing and export hub."

Thenesh Kannaa / Executive Director (TRATAX, WTS Malaysia)

"Malaysia stands out for its open FDI policies, strategic location along key trade routes, and flexible tax incentives, particularly for semiconductors, data centers, and high-tech industries."

Tomy Harsono / Partner (WTS Indonesia)

"Indonesia attracts investors with its massive domestic market, abundant natural resources driving downstream processing, and full foreign exchange liberalization, offering long-term growth potential in key sectors like EV batteries and infrastructure."

The webinar addressed the where, what, and why of successful investment in the region, covering key topics such as:

- Popular FDI places;
- Customs policy adjustments;
- FDI environment & network;
- Tax system overview;
- Regulatory framework; and
- Firm experience in FDI facilitation.

The session was moderated by three representatives from WTS China, ensuring relevance for Chinese enterprises looking to go global. Real-time Chinese subtitles were provided to enhance accessibility.

A heartfelt gratitude goes to the speakers, participants, and phenomenal support from our colleagues from China, Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia.
