

Go-global webinar recap | Investment in Singapore and Thailand

16 June 2026

On 16 June 2026, WTS China and Wolters Kluwer co-hosted the third session of the "go-global" webinar series, featuring Chinese investment in Singapore and Thailand.

The webinar provided a comprehensive roadmap for Chinese investors, positioning Thailand as a prime manufacturing base and Singapore as a regional treasury, holding and trading hub.

The webinar featured insights from tax and legal experts across China, Singapore and Thailand.

“Chinese companies must prioritize domestic compliance before leveraging Singapore's and Thailand's advantages—red lines like CFC rules, resident enterprise status, and export controls should be complied with.”

Ened Du | WTS China

“Singapore's 17% corporate tax, zero capital gains and outbound dividend withholding taxes, and FSIE tax-free treatment for ASEAN dividends can reduce your regional profit tax burden from 38–43% to 20–30%.”

Eugene Lim | WTS Singapore

“Singapore is a natural fit for Chinese investors as a regional treasury and trading hub, with its tax treaty network, stability, light trade rules, and fund schemes like 13D, 13O, and 13U.”

Mei Yeo | WTS Singapore

“Thailand offers superior infrastructure, economic stability, and geopolitical neutrality, combined with clear investment incentives including 100% foreign ownership, land ownership rights, and up to 13-year tax holidays, making it a seasoned manufacturing destination in Southeast Asia.”

Till Morstadt | WTS Thailand

The webinar was moderated by Ms. Ened Du, partner of WTS China, who guided the discussion with inputs from China's perspectives.
